

Wayne S. Brown, Speaker, Author, Mentor

Repairing Bridges, Connecting Communities

Wayne Brown is highly motivated with a passion for leading people towards their purpose. When people pursue their purpose, they can connect with others to build stronger communities. Wayne is the author of "Listen" and founder of Bridge-N-the-Gap, an organization that pays it forward through group and individual coaching. He is also a 30-year veteran who has served in the US, Europe, and the Middle East. Wayne's areas of expertise include three categories: Leadership, Military Life, and Community Involvement.

Experience/Education

- Retired USAF Chief Master Sergeant (E-9)
- Bachelor of Public Administration and Non-profit Management, University Tennessee Chattanooga
- Bachelor of Biblical Studies, Andersonville Theological Seminary
- Institute of Leadership Deployment graduate
- Neighborhood Leadership Institute graduate
- Officer in State Parent Teacher Association
- Administrative Review Committee for the Chattanooga Police Department
- Youth Ministry
- Mentoring youth

Services

- Speaking (Keynote, Panel, & Presentation)
- Workshops
- Breakout Sessions

Information

For more info on booking, go to www.BridgeNtheGap.com, send email to BridgeNtheGap@gmail.com,

Leadership

Leadership is needed in every aspect of life. These key points will enhance your leadership skills.

- Knowing Your Purpose
- Knowing Your Goal
- Knowing Who You Are...and Who You Aren't

Target Audience: Those wanting to increase their influence in schools, communities, businesses, non-profit organizations, local government.

Military Life

As a veteran of the Air Force, Wayne shares his 30 years of experience on the rewards of serving in the military. Attendees will learn about:

- Adapting to Life in the Military
- Cooperating as a Team to Accomplish the Goal
- Making a Commitment to the Military

Target Audience: Those pursuing a military career, and military members who want to maximize their influence in schools, community groups/associations.

Community Involvement

Wayne is active in his community. He works in schools, ministries, neighborhood associations and with city governments. Through his endeavors, he has found key areas which are germane to many communities:

- Finding Common Ground
- Facilitating Involvement
- Strengthening Family Relationships

Target Audience: Those wanting active participation in community development.